The Pastor's Toolbox

Singing Our Praise

An extremely important element of our Catholic worship is that of sung prayer. There is an adage that speaks of the role of song in our liturgies; it talks of us singing the Mass, not just singing at Mass. The revised General Instruction of the Roman Missal (GIRM) of 2002 reminds us of Paul's instruction to the early Church "to sing together psalms, hymns and spiritual songs" (see Colossians 3:16), as well as citing Augustine's wonderful assertion that "singing is for one who loves," and the proverb "one who sings well prays twice" (GIRM, 39).

Easter is a most appropriate season for singing God's praises! Alleluia is, first and foremost, a song of praise to the Lord.

The refrain of Psalm 118, one of the seasonal psalms of Easter, reminds us that "This is the day that the Lord has made, let us rejoice and be glad!" Our rejoicing, in the light of the Resurrection, is made most manifest when we raise our voices together in song. On these Sun-days of Easter, the celebration of the Eucharist calls us at various times to do just this! In the Opening Song, in the Blessing and Sprinkling with Holy Water, in the singing of the Gloria, during the responsorial psalm, in the responses of the Eucharistic Prayer, in praying the Lord's Prayer, and during the Communion Procession are the primary places where we can celebrate the joy of Easter by singing our prayer of praise to God.

In this season of the Resurrection, let us raise our voices and worship the Lord with gladness. Let us come before him with joyful songs (see Psalm 100:2)!-

Summer Reading List

Summer is just around the corner, and therefore, perhaps you are looking for summer reading? If so, check out:

- ☞ Preschool - Young Readers: The young and young-at-heart will enjoy Anthony DeStefano’s children’s books. I love all of his titles, but for summer reading your children will delight in The Seed Who Was Afraid To Be Planted or This Little Prayer of Mine. In The Seed Who Was Afraid To Be Planted, the author adeptly writes to children about change and the growth we encounter when we allow our faith to guide us. In This Little Prayer of Mine, children learn the importance of daily prayer. On his website, <http://www.anthonystefano.com/books.htm>, you will also find charming videos for most of his children’s books. Anthony DeStefano narrates most of them, but he wisely chose an enchanting child to narrate This Little Prayer of Mine. Adults and children alike will learn and grow in faith when they read Anthony DeStefano!
- ☞ Agnes 8 - 12 (and, yes, Adults): Will Wilder and the Relic of Perilous Falls (Arroyo, Raymond. 2016.) Looking for an easy summer read which crosses Indiana Jones with Percy Jackson? Then this book is for you! Once you “fall” for Will and his adventures, be sure to follow Will in the other books in the series!
- ☞ Teen - Adult: A Second Look: Encountering the True Jesus. (Hart, Mark. 2016.) The author writes, “The road from your head to your heart is the longest journey you’ll ever take.” This book will hook you from the first page.
- ☞ Young Adult - Adult: Beneath a Scarlet Sky (Mark T. Sullivan). Based on the life of a forgotten World War II hero, Pino Lella, this work of historical and biographical fiction will capture your mind and heart. I highly recommend this book for mature teens and adults who are history enthusiasts, particularly of World War II.

— God Laughs —

There was a Minnesotan driving down the road one day. He glanced to his right and noticed another Minnesotan sitting in a nearby field. He was in a boat rowing, with no water in sight. The Minnesotan angrily pulled his car over and yelled at the rowing Minnesotan, "What do you think you're doing? It's things like this that give us Minnesotans a bad name. If I could swim, I'd come out there and kick your butt!"
