Questions of the Week

Inspiring Us to Live in the Holy Spirit

Adults: Do I get distracted by the voices of false shepherds? What helps me focus more on the voice of the Good Shepherd?

Children: How do I know that Jesus, the Good Shepherd, is protecting and guiding me? When do I feel his love and care the most?

The Pastor's Toolbox

The Good Shepherd

The fourth Sunday of Easter is traditionally referred to as Good Shepherd Sunday, because the Gospel for each year of the Lectionary comes from the tenth chapter of Saint John, in which Jesus speaks of himself as the Good Shepherd. Jesus says that he knows his sheep and that they follow him because he “give[s] them eternal life, and they shall never perish” (John 10:28).

If we’re not careful, the images of the shepherd and of knowing can be lost on us in today’s modern, fast-paced society. The shepherd would put his very life on the line for his sheep. Their well-being, their safety, and providing for their needs were the shepherd’s chief responsibility. Elsewhere in John’s tenth chapter, Jesus says that “a good shepherd lays down his life for the sheep” (John 10:1).

To know, in the biblical sense, is much deeper and more personal than in the sense with which we may use it today. In the biblical sense, to know something or someone is to have an intimate, personal experience of the thing or person that is known. In the Bible, to know someone is to be in relationship with that person.

In the Gospel today, Jesus says that he knows his sheep. It is in this deeply profound, relational way that he speaks of us—the sheep for whom he has laid down his life. On this Fourth Sunday of Easter we continue to celebrate the great love of God shown to us in the Paschal Mystery. In this we, the members of Christ’s Body, find our hope and our strength.-

GROWING IN OUR FAITH

The Vineyard Around the Area

Upcoming Event at St. Benedict Center, Schuyler, NE:

Creation-Destruction in the Spiritual Exercises of St. Ignatius of Loyola: Join us May 19–22 for this retreat with Father Larry Gillick, SJ. These three days of prayer and reflection will consist of six presentations and three homilies and will focus on the central realities of the Exercises. There will be abundant time for personal prayer, reflection, and experiencing the invitation to enter into the relationship which God constantly offers to the human race. Thursday, 6:00 p.m. to Sunday after lunch. Register now at www.StBenedictCenter.com or call (402) 352-8819. Social distancing and wearing a mask is recommended.

Month of Mary and Mothers: In the Church, we traditionally celebrate Our Mother, Mary, and our earthly mothers in the month of May. Today especially is set aside to celebrate our mothers, but I love the Church in her wisdom to dedicate an entire month to moms! (Don't worry, dads, there's a month set aside for you, too, in March.) This is a wonderful month to begin a daily habit of praying the rosary, especially as a family. Parents, if you read to your children nightly, consider reading Anthony DeStefano's beautifully illustrated book Our Lady's Wardrobe. And let's not forget to honor the women who nurtured us, taught us, comforted us, and loved us. We find these women in all sorts of roles: biological and adoptive mothers, sisters, teachers, neighbors, and mentors, to name a few.

Over the past few years, I have reflected on miracles, love and sacrifice. Love and sacrifice. Images of my mother's many sacrifices immediately come to mind, and I know these sacrifices are manifestations of her love. St. Paul writes to the Corinthians:

Love is patient, love is kind. It is not jealous, [love] is not pompous, it is not inflated, it is not rude, it does not seek its own interests, it is not quick-tempered, it does not brood over injury, it does not rejoice over wrongdoing but rejoices with the truth. It bears all things, believes all things, hopes all things, endures all things.

Love never fails.

1 Cor 13:4 – 8

I often substitute the word love with the word sacrifice. To love is to will the good of the other, and I suspect to live that definition to the fullest means I must decrease so another may increase. Thanks, Mother Mary, and thank you, moms, for all your sacrifices, great and small, so we could grow in love.

God Laughs

As a five-year old boy and his mother were headed to McDonald's one day; they passed a car accident. Usually when they saw something terrible like that, they would say a prayer for those who might be hurt, so the mother pointed and said to her son, "We should pray." From the back seat I heard his earnest request: "Please, God, don't let those cars block the entrance to McDonald's."
